

CHENIN BLANC

Chenin Blanc, the predominant white grape of the Loire region in Central France, makes a completely different wine when grown in cool vineyards. The aroma of this wine is intensely fruity, and distinctly Chenin Blanc. It is a full, round wine with a hint of sweetness to balance its crispness — an excellent accompaniment to chicken, turkey or waterfowl. Serve chilled.

The wines of The Monterey Vineyard are characterized by a unique freshness and fruitiness, and a varietal intensity found only in grapes grown in cooler climates. Their emphatic natural character is captured by the vines reaching deep into the crumbled granite slopes of Monterey County. Warm sunshine and cool breezes from Monterey Bay do the rest.
